Paul Calico inducted into Ohio State Bar Foundation
Fellows Class of 2004

CINCINNATI—Strauss & Troy (www.strausstroy.com) attorney Paul Calico, a resident of Anderson Township, was inducted into the Ohio State Bar Foundation's Fellows Class of 2004 earlier this year.

Membership in the Foundation is by invitation only, and is limited to judges, law school professors, and attorneys who have exhibited a commitment to the welfare of their communities and whose careers have demonstrated their dedication to the highest ideals of the legal profession. As stated on its website (www.osbf.net), the Ohio State Bar Foundation is a public charity dedicated to promoting public understanding of the law and improvements in the justice system throughout Ohio.

The Fellows Class meets throughout the year to learn about the Foundation and its grants and awards programs, as well as to complete a Class project, which involves all members working to further the Foundation's mission. Only 44 judges, professors and lawyers statewide were selected for the Fellows Class of 2004. Chief Justice Thomas Moyer of the Ohio Supreme Court, who is also a Fellow, presented Calico's membership to him at a ceremony held at the Ohio State Bar Association in Columbus. Calico and his classmates will meet every two months throughout 2004 and 2005 to work on their class project.

To learn more about Strauss & Troy and Paul Calico's involvement with the Ohio State Bar Foundation's 2004 Fellows Class, contact Bill Woods at (513) 621-2120 or visit www.strausstroy.com.
